

Position Opening: Prep Cook

We are recruiting a Prep Cook to join our crew. This position is part-time, with variable shifts typically 3-6 hours, and requires availability during weekends and summer holidays/events. Experience in food handling, food sanitation and knife skills is preferred; we would train the right motivated person. The candidate must be able to use time effectively to complete prep lists and demonstrate consistent performance of prep techniques to help control food quality and costs. They should be positive and receptive to coaching. They must have an excellent work ethic, attention to detail and motivation to be a team player. The Prep Cook is responsible for preparing raw materials required for cooking our menu items, including meats and vegetables, and performs additional back of house functions as needed such as stocking and cleaning.

Salary: $12-$14/hour DOE

Job Type: Part time, schedule variable and negotiable. Must be available on weekends and summer holidays/events.

Seasonal or Long Term position: April/May extending through October, some flexibility. There is an opportunity for long term employment and growth within our company.
